Students And Faculty Keep

With each season comes something new and exciting at Pikeville College. Pep rallies usher in basketball season, Halloween parties (opposite page, bottom right) open up fall, parades just wouldn't be the same without the cold weather, and club trips onset spring.

Members of the PC Basketball team, along with coaches' Lyons and Trivette, (opposite page, top) encourage students at a pep rally in Faith Chapel to support the Bears as they take on the Indians in the NAIA District 32 Tourney.

One girl (bottom left) decided it best to get in some practice with pom pons at a home ballgame in the new gymnasium.

Judy Stewardson (middle right), along with the others attending, found the food quite delicious.

Homecoming 1979

Homecoming festivities began at Pikeville College December 13, with the cheerleaders leading a pep rally in Faith Chapel. The Pep Band, under the direction of Jim Andy Caudill, played, pep talks were given, and the Homecoming attendants were introduced.

The Homecoming Parade was held December 15, Saturday, morning in downtown Pikeville, beginning its trek at the college gymnasium. Three area high school bands participated along with the college Pep Band. The other participants were President Hall, Trustees Charles Chrisman and Paul Patten, the 1978 Homecoming Queen, Marcia McClanahan Smith, basketball team and coaches, cheerleaders, two floats, and the 1979 Homecoming Attendants. Pikeville High School's Band received the First Place trophy and the trophy for the Best Majorette Squad. Johns Creek's Band placed third and received the trophy for the Best Field Commander. Phi Beta Lambda won $100 for the Best Float. The Special Education Club received $50 for their float which placed second in the float competition.

A luncheon for the past coaches, ball players, cheerleaders, homecoming queens, and 1979 homecoming attendants was held in the Gold Room. J.K. Rash, a former Bears coach, was the keynote speaker for the event.

Betsy Davis was crowned the 1979 Homecoming Queen by Dr. Jackson O. Hall and the 1978 Queen, Marcia Smith, during the half-time ceremonies at the newly remodeled Pikeville College Gymnasium. Past coaches, basketball players, cheerleaders, and homecoming queens were recognized during half-time.

The basketball game proved to be a huge success. The Bears romped Milligan 89-73. The Williamson High School Band, under the direction of Pikeville College Alumni, Lee Burke, provided the musical entertainment for the game.

"Razz Matazz" topped off the Homecoming festivities as the students, faculty, administration, and alumni danced the night away from 8 until 12 to their music.

The Homecoming activities were sponsored by the Student Government Association.

The prestigious, outstanding SENIOR AWARD was bestowed upon 14 seniors at Pikeville College. A personal resume of each person's college honors and achievements will appear in the National Register of Outstanding College Graduates.

Instructors in the various fields of study at Pikeville College nominated these students. The qualifications for this honor are leadership abilities as well as academic achievement. All students should be outstanding as to their character, scholarship and leadership merits.

For many years there has been a need by employers of national and local firms to have a comprehensive listing of outstanding graduates who are entering the job market each year. Complimentary copies of the National Register of Outstanding College Graduates are distributed each year to the Personnel Departments of hundreds of major businesses throughout the United States for their use in selecting new personnel.

PC Bears Impressive In Home Openers

The Pikeville College Bears traveled a long rough road to post a winning 17-12 season. They finally had a place to call home after two seasons of playing all home games at Pikeville High School due to the disastrous 1977 flood in April destroying the Pikeville College Gym. The new gymnasium was ready for the dedication game December 14 against Berea. The Bears had returned home.

On January 19, the Bears lost their fourth conference bout against Thomas More, 81-73, to post a 3-4 KIAC conference record. Things were looking pretty dark. However, an 89-74 victory against KIAC rival Campbellsville on January 21, sparked a new pace for the Pikeville College Bears. Seven consecutive victories followed before the opening of the KIAC tournament. The Bears were standing on an impressive 10-4 conference record with a 14-11 overall showing. The Pikeville College Bears entered the tournament tied for first place with Campbellsville.

Looking back isn't always the best thing to do, progressing ahead is. Past mistakes should be forgotten. For the Pikeville College Bears, however, looking back meant recollecting on accomplishment.

The Bears began their season by finishing second in the prestigious Marymount Classic in Salina, Kansas. They shut-out Santa Fe, 93-78, in the first round, and then defeated Bethany College, 76-74, in a close match. The Bears faced host Marymount for the championship, but fell behind, 79-73.

Victories see-sawed back and forth with six defeats, and four wins before their spark on January 21. The PC players landed two impressive back-to-back victories against Berea, 89-70, and Milligan, 89-73, in their home openers in the new gymnasium. For the Pikeville College Bears, January 19 ended their slump, with the victory against Campbellsville opening up a shut-out season for the Bears.

“Ain’t No Stoppin’ Us Now” As PC Bears Roll

Jim Chambers (left) leaps to the basket to score a two pointer for the Bears against Ky. State. David Rowe (right) goes up for two against Georgetown. He scored 18 points and pulled down 11 rebounds for their win, 77-76.

ars End Season Co-Champs In KIAC

PC Bears Rally Over Georgetown; Slip Past Cumberland

Bears Claw Mounties

The Bears emerged as 1980 KIAC Champs after defeating Georgetown, 73-67, Cumberland, 69-68, and Berea, 87-59.

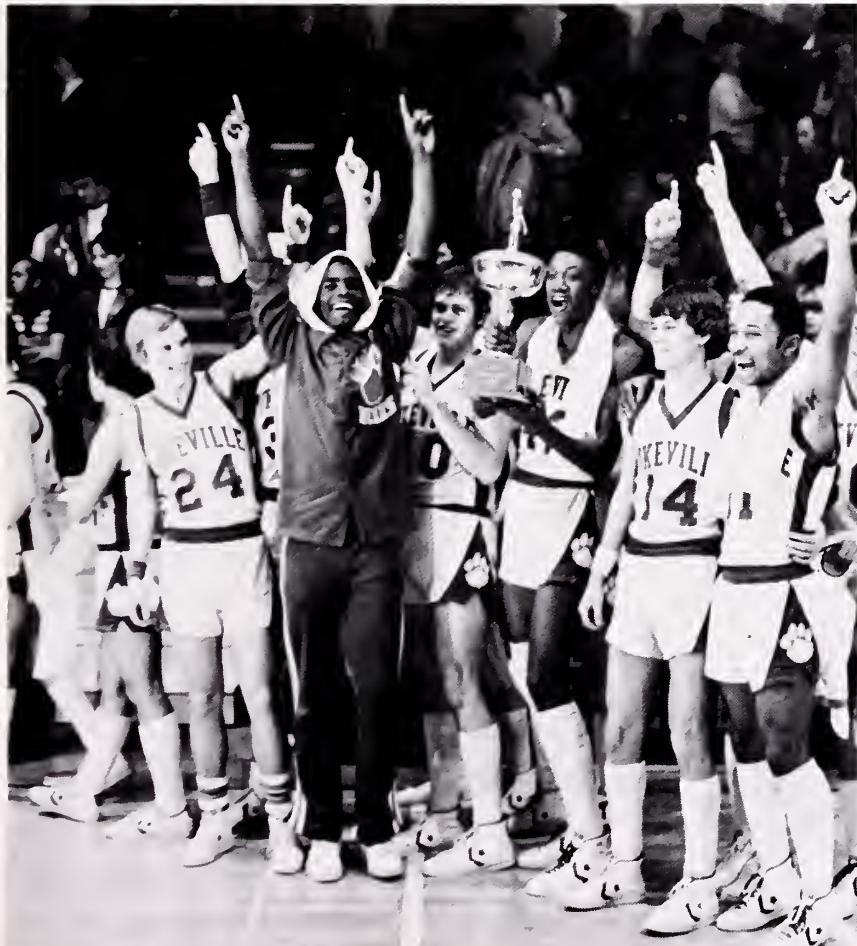

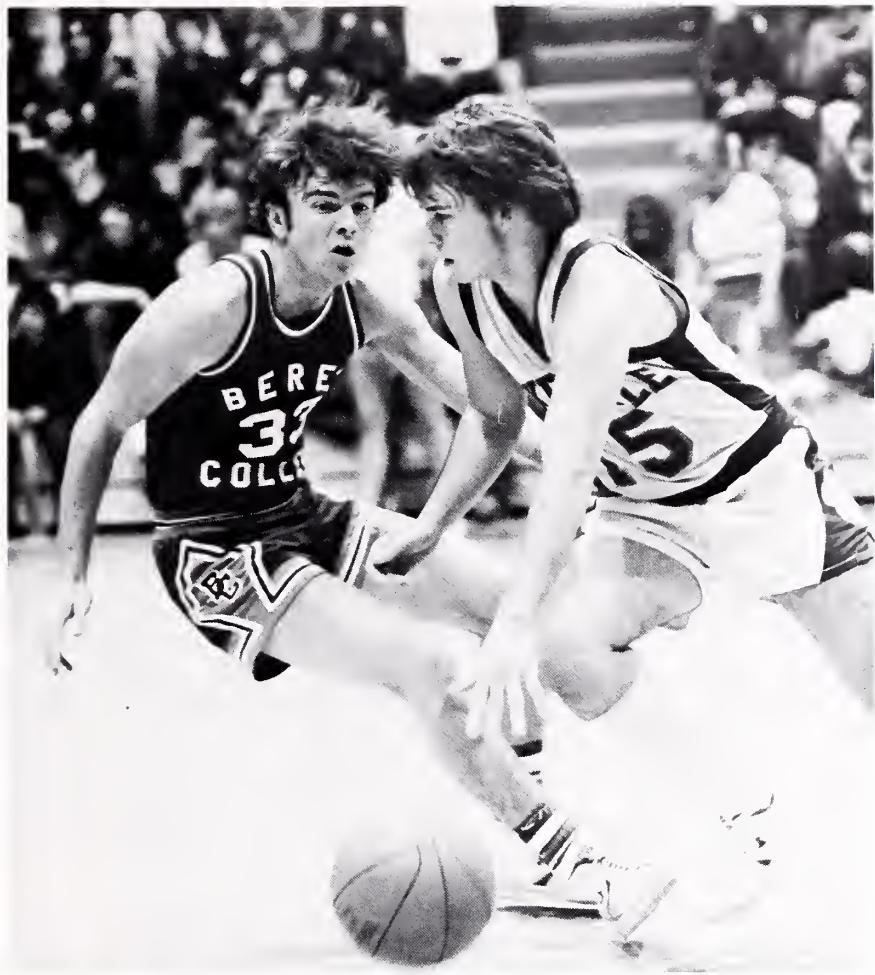

Pikeville had rallied over Georgetown in two previous games before shutting them out in KIAC action. The old saying that you can't beat a team three times didn't hold true for the Bears.

In semi-final play, the PC players barely managed to slip past the Cumberland Indians with a one point victory. Big Jim Chambers connected on two charity flips to move his team into the finals of tournament play.

Berea traveled to Pikeville to take on the Bears after knocking off Campbellsville 8-7, and Thomas More 34-33, in a four-corner stall. The Mountaineers, however, weren't able to hold the ball on Pikeville.

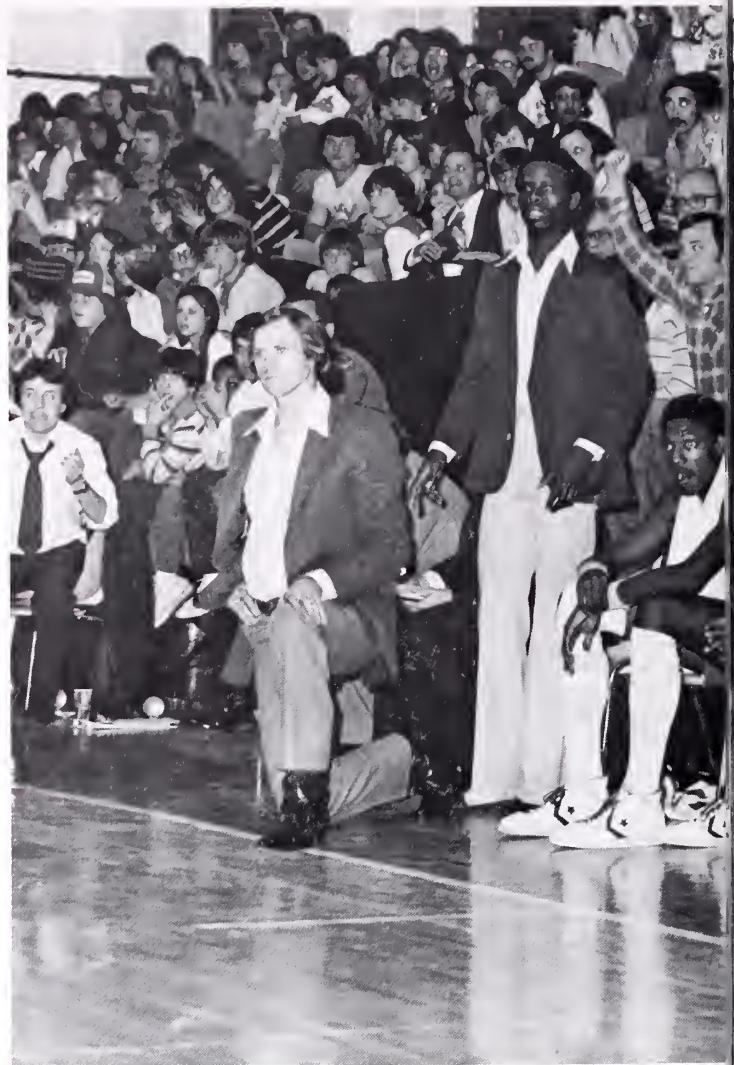

To Emerge KIAC Champs

Bears Slip Behind Indians

In NAIA District 32

The Bears ventured to Cumberland for the first round of NAIA District 32 tournament play, but all hopes for a victory were soon dashed as the Bears fell behind early in the game. Pikeville managed to gain a five point lead in the second half before slipping behind, once again. They came back for a tie, but turnovers gave the game back to Cumberland, and a 86-80 victory.

Leilani Keathley (top right), 5'3", graduated from Fredrick Douglass Senior High where she played three years on the varsity squad.

Powerhouse Emma Blackburn (left) led the Lady Bears in their close victory over the Eagles. Blackburn was hot under the boards for 11 rebounds and contributed 18 markers in the "Honeybears's" win.

"Honey Bears" Work In Beginning Year

Freshman Debbie Newsome (right) is a guard and forward from Virgie, Ky. She stands 5'4" and played three years of basketball in high school.

Joyce Whitt (far right), from Sheldon Clark, played five years on the girl's team. She is 5'6" tall.

Sophomore Tammy Vance (top right) is a graduate of Knott County Central. She served as captain of the squad for two years.

Four additions (left) were named to the squad at the beginning of second semester: Pam Clark and Pam Rosebrook (top), Libby Lockhart and Clarissa Adkins (bottom). Clark, a graduate of Betsy Layne, was a five year starter. Rosebrook is a graduate of Pikeville High School and averaged 18 points a game her senior year. Lockhart, also a graduate of Pike High, was a starter on her team. Adkins started as guard at Virgie High School.

Pikeville College Cheerleaders Work

Freshman Karen Dotson (right) cheers the Bears onto their victory against Georgetown in the KIAC Tourney opener.

The Pikeville College cheerleaders, sponsored by Marian Yarus, started off the season to an exciting, fun-filled beginning. A Slave Day hosted their busy season. Cheerleaders, basketball and baseball players volunteered to sell themselves for a day to who ever would pay the highest price. The eighteen participants raised $165 for the squad to go toward new uniforms.

A Fall Festival followed with activities for all. Eight booths were entered in the festival that was held on top of the Science Building. Their initial goal was to raise money for jackets, and the first Fall Festival had hopefully become an annual event.

Numerous bakesales were held throughout the season, downtown, in the Science Building Lobby, and during spring registration. They also helped out in the Republican Convention held in the PC gymnasium, signing in delegate participants.

Year Long To Promote School Spirit

Their concluding activity was participating in Hillbilly Days. The girls set up a booth downtown on the street set aside for Pikeville College to sell their homemade lemon shake-ups.

Above all, they supported the PC teams — boy's and girl's basketball and baseball.

Being involved in school and community functions enabled the cheerleaders to become more unified and a part of one another. They found that this kind of involvement made the squad one of the best.

The PC cheerleaders shout VICTORY for the Bears as they defeated Cumberland, 69-68, in semi-final tournament play.

Everyone's excited (left) about the Bears' close tourney win over the Cumberland Indians.

Freshman Jill Bailey (far left) had plenty to cheer about as the PC Bears defeated Berea in their season home opener.

Freshman Bena Brewer (left) cheered her best to boost the team's spirit, but the Bears fell behind to Cumberland in the NAIA District 32 opener, 86-80.

PC Golf Team Finishes Fourth In Conference

1980 Golf Team. Lyle Blackburn, Victor Allara, Wesley Case, Clay Campbell. Not pictured — Mike Mullins and Steve Newsome.

The Kentucky Regional Golf Tournament was held May 2 with approximately 75 golfers participating from all of the small colleges in Kentucky. Mike Mullins and Clay Campbell (left) from Pikeville College tied for fourth place.

Campbell, a sophomore, opened up with a 76 while Mullins followed with a 77. The tables turned on the second day of tournament play with Mullins shooting a 76 and Campbell a 77. Matched against each other in sudden death, Campbell emerged the winner.

This year was a first for Pikeville College in having two golfers place as high as Campbell and Mullins did during the conference tournament.

Work To Reorganize Chapter

Phi Beta Lambda, a national organization sponsored by the National Business Education Association, is open to all business students preparing for careers in business and business education.

During their reorganizational year at PC, the club remained quite busy. Beginning with a candle light officer initiation dinner (left) in the Gold Room, the club went on to capture numerous honors throughout the year. Vicki Brown, club historian, (middle left) placed fourth for the club's scrapbook. The trip to Louisville was a tremendous success as club members (middle right) displayed their honors. The weekly club meetings (bottom) were the core of all activities and projects because this was where all ideas were expressed and put into action.

Fifteen Pikeville College students were listed in the 1979-80 edition of WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. Those selected were among the most outstanding campus leaders based on academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and each candidate's future potential.

“The Nutcracker” Receives

A Standing Ovation

"The Nutcracker", a ballet directed and choreographed by Peggy Davis, opened up December 2 with a standing ovation and this enthusiasm continued throughout the successive performances.

A Christmas party (top) at the home of Herr and Frau Von Stahlbaum, played by Dr. Roger Keller and Flo Beth Keller, captured the magic of the Christmas spirit. William McCarthy and Peggy Davis delighted the audience as Grossvater and Grossmutter (grandpa and grandma).

Clara, played by Bonnie Collins, came to the aid of her Nutcracker Doll, played by Steve Collier (opposite page, bottom). The Nutcracker was later transformed into a handsome prince, and he and Clara (bottom) danced with the Snowflakes to a song of elegance and grace.

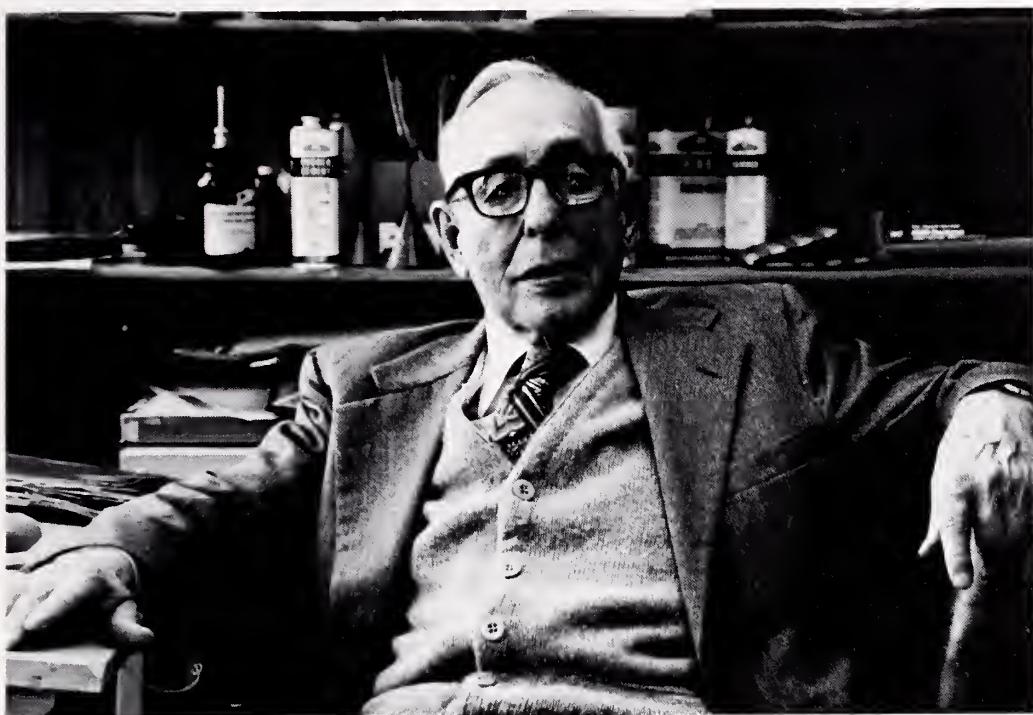

The Many Faces At Pikeville College

The many faces seen around campus at Pikeville College consisted of the painted clown, cat, and hillbilly freckled faces at the first annual Fall Festival, to the mischievous expressions of Kenny Cox and Sammy Amburgey, to Pam Wolford's pleasant show of affection.

Charles Huffman PC's Oldest Student

"Anyone can accomplish anything they attempt to do if they want to." There were many unique and interesting things about Mr. Charles Huffman that I discovered when talking with him in his office at Huffman Supply, Inc., but the most unique was that he was 82-years-old and Pikeville College's oldest student. What he had just said held a lot of truth.

His answer to the question of why he decided to return to school was simply put. "I've always loved music. When I was young I wanted to slip off and join a circus band, but I knew it would kill my mother. Instead I went around with any band that would have me."

Mr. Huffman spoke of two bands in particular. One was the John Lewis Community Band which he played tuba in. The other was the Pikeville High School Marching Band. Even though he was 28-years-old, Mr. Huffman was asked to play with them. When they attended a band contest in Council Bluffs, Iowa, he had to shave twice a day to look younger.

In 1917 Mr. Huffman was a freshman in high school. That same year he entered World War I. In 1924 he married Dolly Elswick and subsequently had four children, three boys and a girl. His love for music always stayed with him, but he just didn't have time for it.

He received an MA degree in Accounting at Bowling Green Business College in one year. Later on he attended a school in Louisville for a year to learn bookkeeping techniques.

At the chipper age of 63 he learned to fly an airplane. Prior to this he had bought a plane and then flew to Huntington Airport for instruction. Some 14 years later he was grounded because of a congestive heart problem. He remembered with a smile that his son-in-law had said he'd never pass the exam.

"Then I had to look for another past time so I took up piano lessons under Peggy Chafins." This was five or six years ago. He was primarily interested in working on scales.

"The first song I completely played through, and there weren't many, was 'Nearer My God to Thee.'

Thirty-two years ago Southern States Cooperative Inc., approached Mr. Huffman about a franchise for their hardware products. The Pike County Hatchery arose from this meeting. It wasn't until 1963-64 that the name was changed to Huffman Supply Inc.

Mr. Huffman decided some fifteen or twenty years ago "to cut out the nonsense that young folks participate in. I guess you could say I did every mean thing under the sun." He then put his life "at the foot of the cross, living day by day, moment by moment." Since this time he says that he hasn't had one headache or worry.

He says his age wasn't a handicap for learning, but felt his major problems were hearing because of sensitivity to high pitched sounds and reading because of a cataract on one of his eyes.

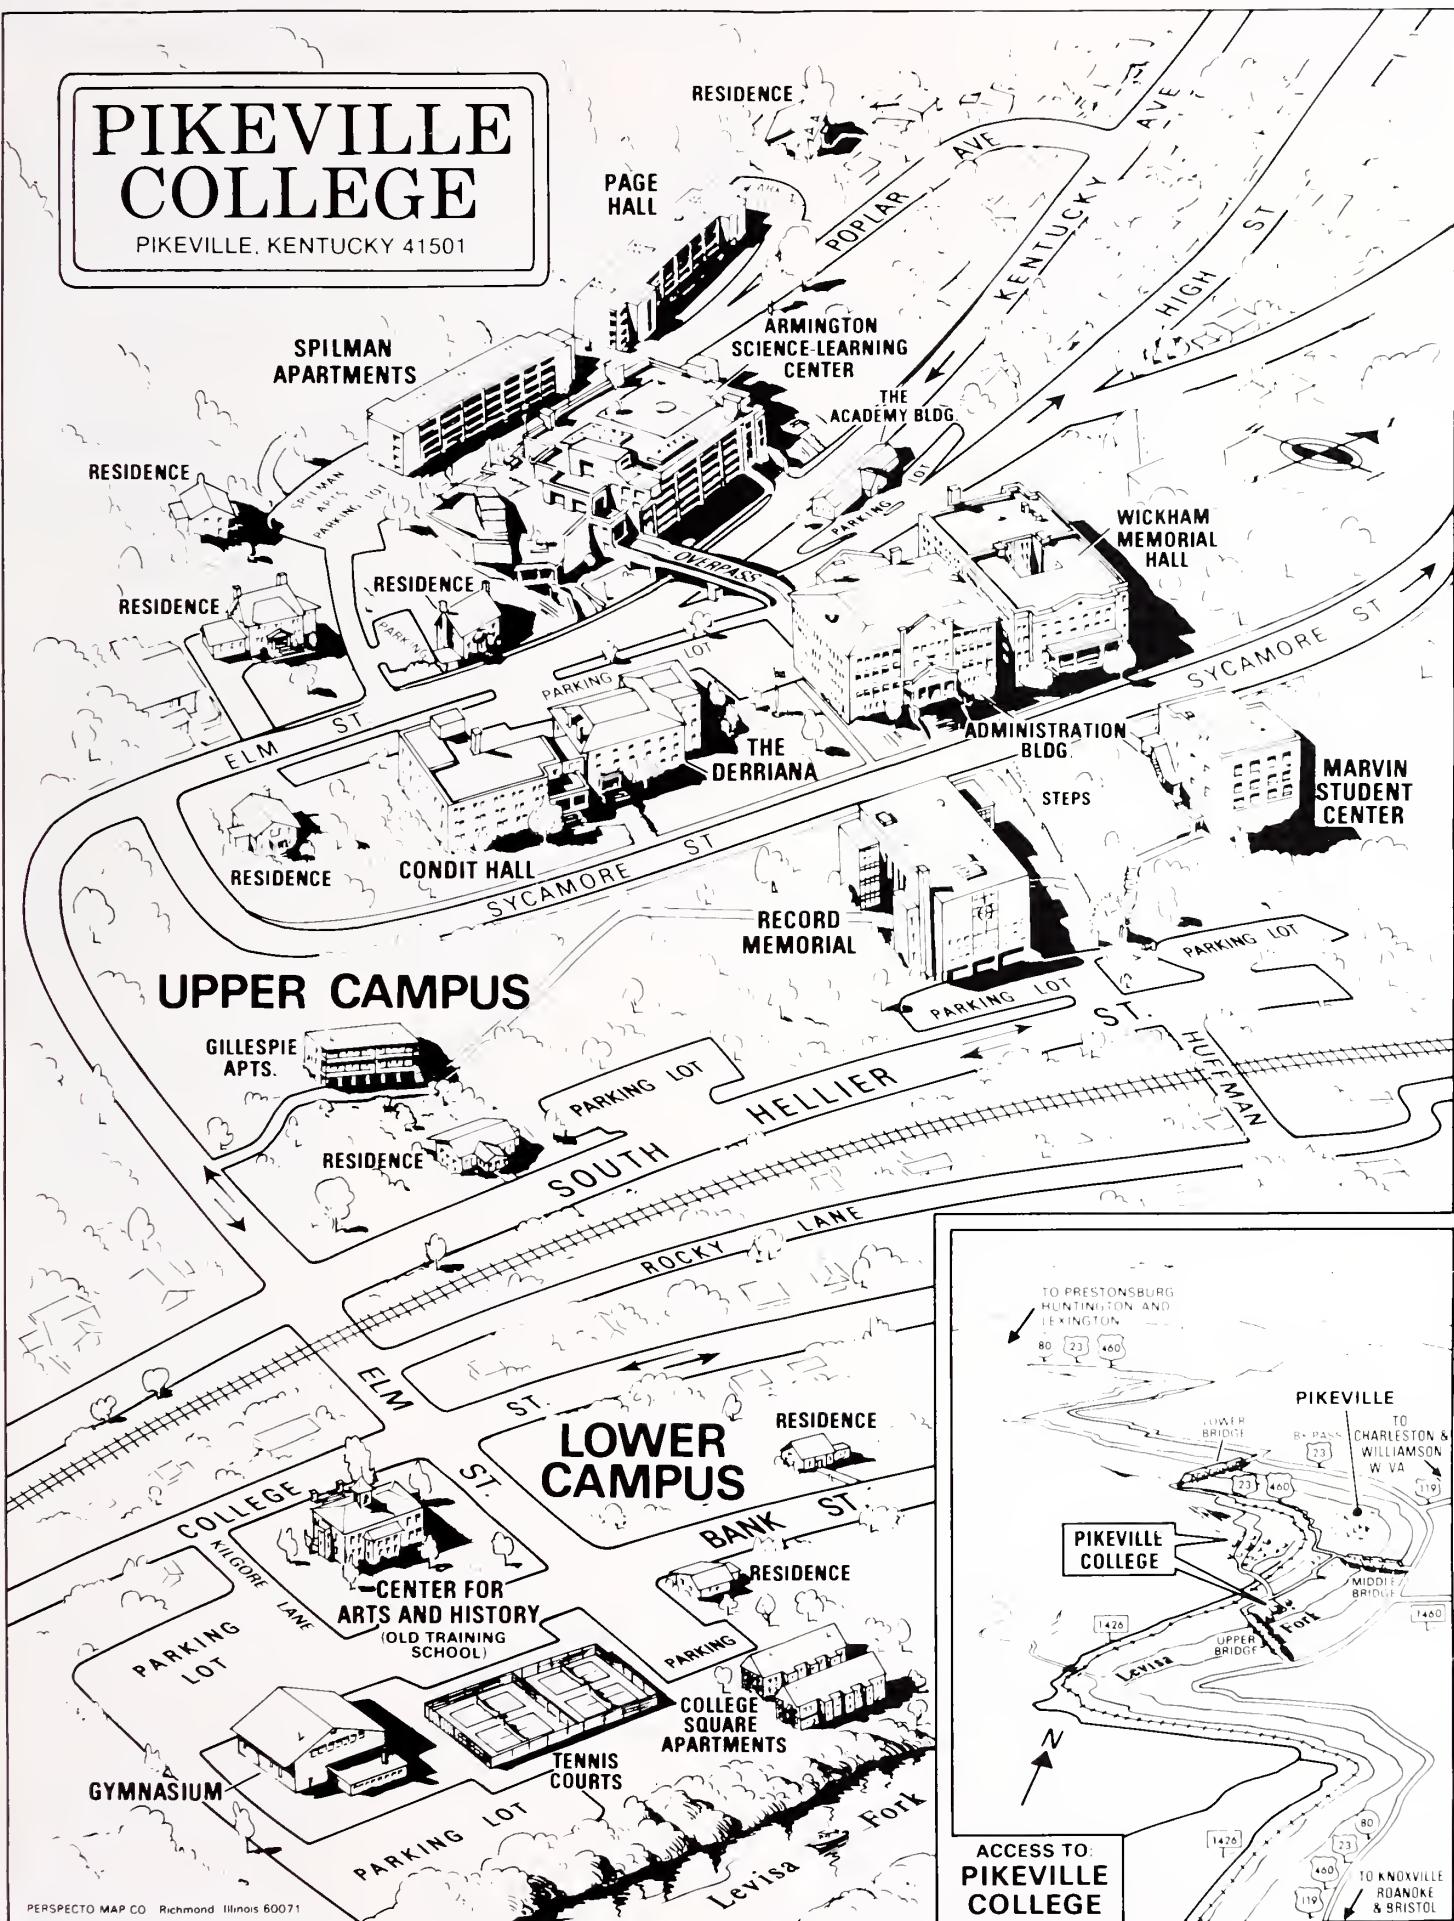

"I've never felt better since I've been going to school on the hill. The air is cleaner and there's less dust. I realized that if I wanted to learn anything about music, Pikeville College was the place to go. Everyone's been wonderful, the faculty and student body both."

Mr. Huffman ended the conversation with a piece of advice that he must have used to pattern his life by. "Don't look back. Keep on going when you make a mistake, everybody makes them. Learn from them."

Pikeville College Mountain Laurel Queen Candidate

Each year in the spring the hills of eastern Kentucky are covered with blooms and the beauty of this season caused Kentuckians to establish a festival in celebration.

Young ladies from Kentucky colleges gather in Pineville to compete for the title of queen to reign over the festivities. There are exhibits, sports, musical events and dances, along with a parade in downtown Pineville.

Miss Susan Lynn Allen represented Pikeville College in the 1980 Kentucky Mountain Laurel Festival held May 22-25 in Pineville.

Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burchett of Pikeville. She is a junior, majoring in English. Her escort was Chuck Huffman, a junior accounting major.

Editor's Note

Being Editor of the 1980 Highlander was an exciting and rewarding experience. It brought with it many hours of hard work and headaches but good memories are far more outstanding.

A very special thank you goes to Susan Allen. She was a tremendous help to me. Susan and I completed the entire book ourselves.

I would like to thank our photographers for the yearbook: Jerry Martin, Steve Branam, and Sara Falls. I would also like to thank our photographer from Olan Mills, Jack Tester.

It's been quite a year!
